

In the Claims

1 – 19) (Cancelled)

20) (Currently Amended) A method for treating viral infections, and/or bacterial infections, and/or parasitical infections, and/or fungal infections, ~~and/or diseases generated from non conventional transmissible agents~~, in humans or animals comprising administering to a human or animal a pharmaceutically effective amount of a pharmaceutical composition comprising:

at least one hypochlorite compound, and at least one N-chlorinated compound selected from zwitterionic compounds and/or the amino acids, without substantial stimulation of myeloperoxidase activity in the human or animal.

21) (Cancelled)

22) (Previously Presented) A method of modulating immunity, in humans or animals comprising administering to a human or animal a pharmaceutically effective amount of a pharmaceutical composition comprising:

at least one hypochlorite compound, and at least one N-chlorinated compound selected from zwitterionic compounds and/or amino acids, without substantial stimulation of myeloperoxidase activity in the human or animal.

23) (Cancelled)

24) (Cancelled)

25) (Previously Presented) A method according to claim 20, wherein the composition treats lesions and infections generated from periodontitis.

26) (Previously Presented) A method according to claim 20, wherein the composition treats lesions and infections generated from herpesviridae.